

What's going on in ... Media Studies & Film Studies

Our Y13 Film Studies students are making the finishing touches to their coursework projects. Each student has produced a short film, which has given them experience of every aspect of film-making, including directing, scripting, shooting and editing their film.

Our Y13 Media Studies students are also making the finishing touches to their coursework projects. Each student has produced either a DVD/BluRay cover and film posters, or a magazine cover and articles. Every student has also recorded and edited a short podcast.

Y12 Film Studies and Media Studies students are continuing to build their skills and knowledge of a very wide variety of film and media products. They will soon begin the process of deciding on their coursework projects, as they are able to follow their own particular interests.
